The questions we help you explore

What happened?

Read selected developments relevant to mining-market activity.

Why could it matter?

Consider the commercial implications for suppliers and service providers.

What should we validate?

Use practical questions to guide your next investigation or customer discussion.

What the offer provides

A monthly email

Selected mining developments and concise commentary in English.

A commercial lens

Questions about applications, buying routes, timing and the conditions behind an opportunity.

A simple subscription

Sign up on straterval.com, confirm your email address and unsubscribe whenever you wish.

APPROACH AND AVAILABILITY

An editorial selection of mining developments and their implications, rather than a complete news feed. The newsletter and signup form are currently in English.

The free brief introduces our approach. Confidential advice, continuous monitoring and company-specific research are separate services.

Subscription: free. Email confirmation is required; each newsletter includes an unsubscribe link.
