STRATERVAL / ADVISORY SESSION

Commercial Decision Session

US$249 / session - introductory price

The problem

You have a defined commercial decision and want an experienced outside perspective on the options, assumptions and next steps.

What you receive

A short intake, review of up to two pages of client-supplied background, a 60-minute online discussion, and a one-page next-step summary. The summary records the question, options discussed, assumptions, practical actions and remaining unknowns.

Scope and format

One decision for one company; up to two client participants. Discussion available in English or French. The written summary follows the agreed language. Availability, meeting platform and summary delivery date are confirmed before booking.

What is excluded

No independent market research, document audit, legal or tax advice, financial modelling, introductions or implementation. Discussion relies on the information supplied and does not establish unverified facts.

How to begin

Email info@straterval.com with your question and preferred times. We confirm fit, scope, applicable taxes, payment and scheduling or rescheduling arrangements before purchase.
